The Catalyst Fund
Advancing Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion in American Orchestras
Made possible with support from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation with additional support from the Paul M. Angell Family Foundation

Introduction
The Catalyst Fund is a three-year pilot program of the League of American Orchestras that awards annual grants to build the internal capacity of member orchestras (based in the U.S.) in advancing their understanding of equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) and in encouraging effective practice.

While there are many ways to define equity, diversity, and inclusion, the League defines EDI in the following way:

Equity is fair treatment, equal opportunity, and fairness in access to information and the distribution of resources.

Diversity is representation of our individual and collective identities.

Inclusion creates a culture of belonging that embraces participation by everyone.

Application Deadline: Friday, November 6, 2020

Background
The Catalyst Fund was created in response to field-wide feedback from the League’s most recent EDI planning process. Members expressed a strong desire to serve people of all races, abilities, and genders from a range of cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds. They realized, however, there are challenges to doing this in meaningful and fiscally sound ways. EDI work requires a re-examination of orchestras’ values, cultures, and ways of working, along with a willingness to change. The Catalyst Fund provides grants orchestras use to engage EDI consultants to help them create and implement strategies that are relevant to their own orchestras and communities.

The League itself is working to develop authentic EDI practices and stands committed to using its resources in support of field progress. The League’s commitment to supporting the field in growing knowledge and understanding of EDI is based on the belief that:

- EDI is essential to the long-term relevance of orchestral performance and the viability of the institutions that support it.
- EDI is imperative for meaningful, authentic, and relevant relationships with communities.
- EDI is fundamental to creating cultures where creativity flourishes, and all staff, musicians, boards, and artistic leaders are supported in bringing their full identities into their orchestras.
- EDI is necessary for the innovation that orchestras must pursue to adapt to their changing environment and to be fiscally secure and artistically vibrant.
- EDI is vital in attracting and retaining the highest levels of talent to all dimensions of orchestras—musicians, staff, boards, and artistic leadership.
EDI is foundational to upholding the principles of equality and fairness inherent in creating a more just society.

The League invites applicants with an approach to EDI that mirrors the program’s ideals, specifically:

- Humility, which acknowledges that answers may be elusive and the process of getting to them uncomfortable, but undertaking the work of EDI with openness, objectivity, and deep institutional commitment.
- Transparency, which is defined as clear communication with all stakeholders and a willingness to be candid about the challenges and opportunities inherent in becoming more equitable institutions.
- Authenticity, where we realize that EDI is a sustained practice that eschews tokenism and instead embeds equity across the institution.

Program Overview

Advancing EDI is challenging work for any institution. To assist orchestras in creating more equitable cultures, The Catalyst Fund provides the following resources:

- Annual grants ranging from $10,000 to $25,000, enabling successful applicants to work with a professional EDI consultant to self-define and advance internal EDI learning objectives during the one-year grant period.
- A community to share learning with other grantees that includes a dedicated online forum as well as remote and in-person convenings.
- Opportunities to lead and participate in fieldwide learning activities, giving visibility to EDI work in orchestras. Grantees may be profiled in League communications such as The Hub and Symphony magazine or speak during convenings and other League events.

Program Components

Learning Goals

The Catalyst Fund requires applicants to articulate their specific challenges, intended goals and outcomes, and what progress looks like to their organization. Applicants must work with an external EDI consultant to assist them in refining and clarifying their goals. For additional guidance on hiring and working with a consultant, please refer to the League’s Resource and RFP guides.

The Catalyst Fund aims to support internal EDI organizational development and capacity building. Examples of activities that may be supported by Catalyst Fund grants include, but are not limited to:

- Helping board and staff clarify and align their strategic thinking on EDI issues
- Conducting an institutional audit and/or developing an EDI plan
- Professional development such as coaching, mentorship, or training for staff, artistic leadership, board, and musicians
- Developing recruiting materials and hiring practices that demonstrate prior knowledge and understanding of EDI principles

Cohort Learning

The Catalyst Fund learning community is meant to be a resource to grantees through peer-to-peer support and meaningful information exchange. Grantees will participate in this community through four convenings during the grant period (one, during the League’s National Conference, to be held online, and three remote sessions) in addition to informal and facilitated discussion via the League360.
platform. Orchestras are encouraged to have representatives from each constituency (i.e., programs staff, artistic leaders, board, musicians, etc.) participate in these activities. Regular participation by grantees is expected, as is embodying the program ideals of humility, transparency, and authenticity.

Eligibility
To be eligible to receive grants from The Catalyst Fund, applicants must:

  - paid all dues or be current with all authorized installment payments for the membership year(s) that fall during the grant period;
  - provided the League with a current list of staff, musicians, board members, and volunteers—including titles, email addresses, and the street addresses of those eligible to receive Symphony magazine as a benefit of membership; and Non-member orchestras may join the League at the time of application to become eligible. Grant requests may not exceed 20% of the orchestra’s total annual operating budget.

Consortium Grants
A group of orchestras in a geographic region are eligible to apply for Catalyst Fund grants so long as all parties meet the above criteria. Consortium applications must address the following questions on the application:

- What benefit(s) do you hope each partner will derive from this collaboration?
- How are you ensuring an equitable distribution of work and accountability among the consortium partners?
- Is this your first time collaborating, or do you have a history of working together?

Please contact Lee Ann Norman, Director, Learning and Leadership Programs at catalyst@americanorchestras.org to discuss your consortium proposal before you apply.

Adjudication and Selection Process

After verifying the eligibility of applicants, the League will engage an independent panel to review applications and make grant recommendations according to the following criteria:

• Institutional Commitment: the extent to which applicants demonstrate their commitment to advancing and sustaining EDI efforts and a culture that holds EDI as a central value and priority for their organization
• Project Readiness: the degree to which project goals are articulated and applicants demonstrate a clear understanding of the activities and timeline necessary to achieve stated outcomes
• Implementation Plan: the degree to which applicants provide a clear and detailed account of those inside the institution who would lead this work, as well as the rigorousness of the case for why the proposed work is necessary at this time

Finally, the panel will review the overall composition of recommended grantees to ensure a Balanced Cohort that is a broad representation of perspectives, geographies, budget group sizes, and project types.

Applicants will be notified of decisions by February 19, 2021. Those selected as a provisional grantee will receive information with recommendations on how to hire an EDI consultant and have until early April to submit a Memorandum of Understanding, notifying the League of their intention to work with their chosen consultant. To receive grant awards, provisional grantees must submit a fully executed contract and final project budget for the League’s review by May 3, 2021. Final grant amounts will then be determined and announced.
